Starry Night

The actor Richard Gere will be on hand in Mount Kisco on Saturday to present an award to the director Lasse Hallstrom (“Chocolat,” “The Shipping News”) and his wife, the actress Lena Olin (“Chocolat,” “Enemies: A Love Story”). The couple will receive the Collen Dewhurst Award at a gala party given by the Northern Westchester Center for the arts starting at 6:30 p.m.

How gala is it?

Here’s a glimpse of the guest list: Eli Wallach and Ann Jackson, Barbara Feldon, Paul Schaffer, Zoe Caldwell, Frank Converse, Alan Menken and Stephen Lang. Not so hidden away in northern Westchester are some of the best-known people in the worlds of film, music, television, and theatre, who lend support to the nonprofit center.

Tickets to the event are $300 and include cocktails, dinner, performances by Liz Callaway and Alan Menken and a live auction. The Opus Gallery of Fine Arts, built with a $250,000 contribution from the OpusSM Advisory Group, a White Plains financial service company, will also be dedicated that evening.
